NMI/Standards Australia Forum - Sydney 26 April

GAMAA will be represented at this Forum by Ross Jamieson SIT Gas Controls & Alan law Rheem Australia. We know that a number of other GAMAA members will also be in attendance.

The Forum is being held to discuss the differing views on the use within industry of units of pressure other than kPa, with the objective to reach a consensus that will provide clear guidance to suppliers of certified gas components. GAMAA's position remains to expand the range of acceptable markings on gas components to include globally recognized markings such as mbar, Psi, kPa and inches of water column.

Have you registered?
