

Arrow delivers monster gas deal

Gas Today Mon 4 December 2017

Arrow Energy has agreed one of the largest gas supply deals on Australia's east coast, to bring to market its significant gas reserves in southern Queensland.

Under the 27-year deal, uncontracted gas from Arrow's Surat Basin fields in Queensland would flow to the QCLNG Project on Curtis Island, which will then sell the gas to local customers as well as exporting it.

"The deal offers long-awaited infrastructure collaboration in the natural gas industry, creating better cost efficiencies and enabling us to bring this gas to market in a challenging investment climate," said Mr Qian. Read full article here
